

The Mission of Courageous Conversation is to promote a culture of justice and compassion in Georgetown for people of all races, and economic, religious and ethnic identities. Our vision is to create a Beloved Community of compassion characterized by cross-cultural communication, collaboration, celebration and courage.

Courageous Conversations in Sun City

Monday, March 18th

7:00-8:30 pm

Georgetown/Florence

Rooms at the Cowan
Creek Amenity Center

Courageous Conversations Georgetown invites interested people in our community to participate in a forum in Sun City when we will explore the difficult issues of race in America. This will be a facilitator-led opportunity for all of us to broaden our understanding of racism in our community and in our nation. After watching videos that address perceptions about racism today, attendees will be invited to engage in respectful conversations about personal experiences that shape race relations to gain a better understanding of the dynamics involved in strengthening racial harmony. This Sun City event will be held in the Georgetown/Florence rooms at the Cowan Creek Amenity Center from 7:00 to 8:30 PM on Monday, March 18th.

To attend this free event, we are asking participants to register on line via the "EVENTS" tab on the Courageous Conversations website –
